Compelling Artwork on Display Throughout the Summer at The JCC

May 30-July 25

Paintings by Nahum Halevi - "Echoes of Illumination"

"Nahum Halevi" is the Hebraic acronym for Natham Chaim Moskowitz HaLevi. He is a self-taught artist working to "grasp the transcendent meaning of Judaism." Nahum combines the meaning of Hebrew biblical words with his personal imagery to create new visual and literary interpretations of these familiar stories.

Polymer Creations by Carol Steinman Zilliacus

The artist returns to the Center with her newest collection of stunning polymer creations. Carol is recognized as a master of the art of working with this synthetic clay. Carol's techniques for combining colors set her paintings, masks and jewelry above the majority.

July 25-August 22

Emes Editions Limited -- Mordechai Rosenstein

Framed and double-matted colorful, signed numbered prints are the vision of the gifted hand of Mordechai Rosenstein. Rosenstein's pieces bring a warm glow, rich rhythm and blend of color with his deep love for Judaism.
